Course Overview

This course is a comprehensive application of the study of marketing strategies, business application case analyses, strategy development, and implementation.
Course Prerequisites

MKTG 3012 and MKTG 4080

Required Materials

All materials will be made available on the course web site.

Teaching Philosophy

My responsibility as a teacher is to construct the mix of delivery and assessment tools that provides students the best opportunity to achieve course objectives.

Course Objectives

This course focuses on strategic marketing processes: performing a strategic analysis, creating and presenting a marketing plan, and justifying your conclusions.

Course Roadmap and Tasks

This course focuses on critical thinking and higher-level learning objectives which are linked directly to course objectives. We will cover various materials in the first part of the course to lay the groundwork for the course project which represents “real world” deliverables. In the second part of the course you will create a written marketing plan and a marketing plan presentation as part of a team. During your work on the marketing plan assignments you will also submit a synthesis of the 5 C’s. Details on the format and content of the each of these tasks will be provided.

Peer Evaluations

After your team submits the written document and presentation for your marketing plan, each team member will submit a peer evaluation. Team members who do not pull their own weight will receive lower scores in team-related assignments. This is not an extra credit mechanism. It is only a mechanism to counteract the “free-rider” problem.
Tentative Schedule

While we will try to follow this schedule, deviations are possible. Any changes will be announced on the course web site and via email. It is your responsibility to monitor the course web site and your email regularly to receive these announcements.

8/17: First day of class
8/20: Discussion due: Megacompany
8/27: Discussion due: Sustainability and Marketing/Creating Marketing Strategy
9/3: Discussion due: Communicating the Marketing Plan/ Understanding and Leveraging Consumer Behaviors
9/7: Exam #1
9/14: Discussion due: Being Customer Centric
9/21: Discussion due: Market Segmenting and Targeting/Creating Your Customer Value Proposition
9/24: Exam #2
10/15: Synthesis of 5 C’s Due
11/17: Marketing Plan Document and Presentation Due

Participation

To be successful in this course as a student, you must stay active and involved throughout the entire semester. Students are expected participate in all interactive aspects of the course. You should also regularly communicate with the instructor as part of your overall learning experience, check into the course frequently for announcements, and actively participate in threaded discussion events.

Academic Integrity

The Fogelman College of Business and Economics has clear guidelines when it comes to academic dishonesty and I’d recommend that you review them. If you have any questions regarding academic dishonesty in this course, please consult me PRIOR to engaging in any questionable activity. There are really only a few things that you need to keep in mind to stay out of trouble in this course. First, don’t collaborate on any individual tasks. Second, don’t engage in any form of plagiarism in the marketing plan assignments. You will undoubtedly perform a lot of research to create the marketing plan. Just make sure you attribute credit where credit is due for the sources you use. For the most part, as long as you follow these simple rules, you’ll have nothing to worry about with respect to academic dishonesty.

Having said that, let me be clear that academic dishonest will not be tolerated. Let me also be clear what the consequences are: If you engage in activities that violate the University’s academic dishonesty policies, you will fail the course.

Email

All students are required to maintain and access their University of Memphis (@memphis.edu) email account (Please do not use the email function within eLearn). You will receive all official course correspondence at this email account. Any inability to receive incoming mail in a timely fashion (e.g., not regularly checking your email, having a “full mailbox” condition, etc.) is the student’s responsibility.

Attendance

Since this is an online class taught asynchronously, there are no scheduled meeting times. Thus, formal attendance will not be taken. However, you are expected to stay active and engaged throughout the semester and keep up with the schedule of activities. Your full engagement in the class begins on the first day of the semester and should be maintained until the last assignment is submitted. For students receiving federal student loans, any lack of engagement in the course may be treated as non-attendance and potentially impact access to student loans in the future.
Adding/Dropping

If you have questions about adding or dropping classes, please refer to this page on the Registrar’s website.

Online Behavior

All participants in the course should be considerate of the other course participants and treat them (as well as their opinions) with respect. The class will operate under the assumption that any and all feedback offered is positive in nature and that the intentions of the person(s) providing feedback are strictly honorable. Insensitivity in this area will not be tolerated. If you have any questions about online communication, you should review the Fogelman College's Netiquette website.

Syllabus Changes

The instructor reserves the right to make changes as necessary to this syllabus. If changes are necessitated during the term of the course, the instructor will immediately notify students of such changes both by individual email communication and posting both notification and nature of change(s) on the course home page.

Title IX

The University is committed to ensuring equality in education and eliminating any and all acts of sexual misconduct from its campus. Sexual misconduct includes sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence and stalking. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you can make a report to the Office for Institutional Equity.
or call 901.678.2713. Please note that if you make a report to me, I am required to report it to the University. If you want to make a confidential report you can contact the University Counseling Center, 214 Wilder Tower, 901.678.2068.

FCBE Academic Internship Credit

In FCBE, all majors offer an academic internship course option as a substitution for a required elective in a student’s major. To apply for academic credit, students must obtain an internship highly related to their major, register prior to the start of their internship and have their internship approved by departmental internship faculty. Please review the requirements for applying for academic credit. Students should allow approximately two weeks for the review and processing of an academic internship application through the Fogelman Internship Network.

University Policies and Resources

This course will follow all University Policies. Please review this summary of policies and resources from the Office of Student Accountability.
